

Asset Allocation Diversification – 20 Years of the Best and Worst

Everyone wants to be in the best-performing asset class every year. The thing is, few people are savvy enough to consistently choose the best. That's why diversification is key. This chart shows annual returns for eight broad-based asset classes, cash and a diversified portfolio ranked from best to worst. Notice how the "leadership" changes from year to year, and how competitively the diversified portfolio performed over 20 years (see the "average" column).

Note that the diversified portfolio's assets were rebalanced at the end of every quarter to maintain the equal allocations throughout the period. Standard deviation reflects a portfolio's total return volatility, which is based on a minimum of 36 monthly returns. The larger the portfolio's standard deviation, the greater the portfolio's volatility. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

Important risk considerations: 10 The fund may not achieve its objective and/or you could lose money on your investment in the fund. 11 Stock: Stock markets and investments in individual stocks are volatile and can decline significantly in response to or investor perception of, issuer, market, economic, industry, political, regulatory, geopolitical, and other conditions. 12 Bond: Investments in debt instruments may decline in value as the result of, or perception of, declines in the credit quality of the issuer, borrower, counterparty, or other entity responsible for payment, underlying collateral, or changes in economic, political, issuer-specific, or other conditions. Certain types of debt instruments can be more sensitive to these factors and therefore more volatile. In addition, debt instruments entail interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, prices usually fall), therefore the Fund's share price may decline during rising rates. Funds that consist of debt instruments with longer durations are generally more sensitive to a rise in interest rates than those with shorter durations. At times, and particularly during periods of market turmoil, all or a large portion of segments of the market may not have an active trading market. As a result, it may be difficult to value these investments and it may not be possible to sell a particular investment or type of investment at any particular time or at an acceptable price. The price of an instrument trading at a negative interest rate responds to interest rate changes like other debt instruments; however, an instrument purchased at a negative interest rate is expected to produce a negative return if held to maturity. 13 International: Investments in foreign markets can involve greater risk and volatility than US investments because of adverse market, currency, economic, industry, political, regulatory, geopolitical, or other conditions. 14 Underlying Funds: MFS' strategy of investing in underlying funds exposes the fund to the risks of the underlying funds. Each underlying fund pursues its own objective and strategies and may not achieve its objective. In addition, shareholders of the fund will indirectly bear the fees and expenses of the underlying funds. Please see the prospectus for further information on these and other risk considerations.

Before investing, consider the fund's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. For a prospectus or summary prospectus containing this and other information, contact your investment professional or view online at mfs.com. Please read it carefully.
